Not illustrated. 1913 Excerpt: .wheat and flour demand or receive as his part of the cost of marketing and distribution? MARGINS. The present inquiry is limited to hard winter wheat and flour made therefrom. As Kansas is the leading State in the production of hard winter wheat, the elevator and flour mill data were secured in that State and in Kansas City, Mo., whoso elevators and mills receive the greater part of their wheat from Kansas. After securing prices paid by elevators to farmers for their wheat, data were secured covering transportation cost, prices realized for wheat by elevator operators and wheat jobbers, and prices realized for flour by mills. The flour was then followed to a few of its principal markets and data secured as to transportation cost and prices realized by wholesalers and retailers. The six periods selected for study are the months of March and October, 1906, 1910, and 1911. The average price of wheat was lower in 1906 than in any year since 1903. Wheat reached a comparatively high price in the spring of 1910 and in the fall of 1911. In 1909 the price for a time was high because, in part at least, of manipulation of the market. The years selected for the study represent normal conditions, not being particularly affected by corners or other artificial conditions, and it is believed that they afford opportunity for satisfactory comparisons. Owing to the difficulty in finding records, it was not possible to go back many years....
