Budget Issues: PrivatizationDivestiture Practices in Other Nations: Aimd-96-23

By -

Bibliogov. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 40 pages. Dimensions: 9.7in. x 7.4in. x 0.1in.Pursuant to a congressional request, GAO reviewed the divestiture experiences of other nations, focusing on the: (1) privatization process; (2) valuation and preparation of assets for sale; and (3) use and display of sale proceeds for budgetary purposes. GAO found that: (1) in the nations studied, privatization goals influenced how and what entities would be offered for sale; (2) the nations studied used privatization mainly to increase economic efficiency and reduce the size of government; (3) a central agency is responsible for overseeing the privatization process in each of the nations studied; (4) the nations generally privatized entities already in a corporate form; (5) some nations used clawbacks to require buyers to return a share of profits to the government; (6) although the use of clawbacks helps protect taxpayers against undervaluation, they decrease sale prices and may constrain entities commercial behavior; (7) although the nations used various valuation techniques, all governments hired financial advisors to assist in the valuation process; (8) most of the nations studied attempted to remove liabilities from entities being privatized by restructuring debt, paying unfunded employee obligations,...
