Newdegate, on Moving for a Select Committee of Inquiry Into the Monastic and Conventual Institutions of Great Britain Mr. Newdegate: Mr. Speaker, before I proceed with the notice I have given, I may be allowed to present some petitions, some of them numerously signed, which have been forwarded to me, and relate to the subject of my notice. I have already presented a considerable number this afternoon, and I now beg to present several of these; they come from various parts of the country, including one from Birmingham and its neighbourhood, another from Evesham, and others from the Lords Day Observance Society, from Runcorn, and from Chester. The petitions having been ordered to lie on the table, Mr. Newdegate proceeded to say: On introducing the notice which now stands in my name, I wish to request that, in the last line but one, the words have been acquired and should be omitted, so as to leave the word are in the same line; the notice would then run: - Select committee...
