Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Tragedy of Bitlis After their return to this country in October, 1917, Miss McLaren and Miss Shane each wrote an account of what occurred in Bitlis during the summer and early autumn of 1915. A harmony of the two narratives constitutes two-thirds of the present volume, entire paragraphs or pages being quoted word for word where this was feasible. Every incident is absolutely authentic, for the two American ladies have related without exaggeration what they have seen with their own eyes or experienced in their own persons. I happened to be in Van when the war began and shared the fortunes of the Americans and Armenians there during the events briefly sketched in the chapter entitled The Besieged City. But Bitlis was my birthplace and childhoods home, and I had taught there for nine years. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
